

The essential tool to stay on top of MiFID2 reform

Are you finding it challenging to follow the MiFID2 legislative process?

Do you find it difficult to track the practical steps you need to take to comply?

Do you worry about missing something or being out of line with the market?

Simmons & Simmons MiFID2 Manager is the market leading practical tool to assist you with all of the above and guide you through the steps that need to be taken to stay on top of the requirements of MiFID2/MiFIR and its implementing legislation.

How will the MiFID2 Manager help me?

The MiFID2 Manager consolidates the current legal position on all articles of MiFID2 and MiFIR, and includes reference to level 2 and level 3 material. The requirements are clearly arranged by topic and are further broken down by activity type where appropriate. Columns show to which firm types particular topics apply.

A Pan-European View

A dedicated gold plating column in the MiFID2 Manager contains flags of countries that have, or are likely to, gold plate MiFID2 requirements. These flags link through to gold plating tables, which cover the position in nine jurisdictions: Belgium, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Spain, The Netherlands and UK.

The consultation and transposition process in all of these jurisdictions is also tracked, enabling the MiFID2 Manager to meet the needs of firms operating throughout Europe.

A Practical Project Management Tool

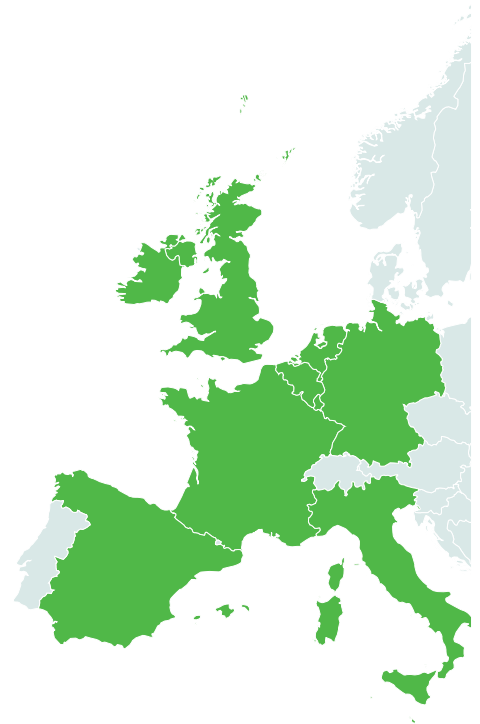

The MiFID2 Manager has been designed for busy lawyers, compliance staff and project managers. As well as being a comprehensive legal resource, it also incorporates a number of practical elements, which mean that it can be used in a variety of ways.

Each topic carries a 'red, amber or green' rating, depending on its likely impact on a firm's operation. Additionally, an indication of the areas in which an impact may be felt, from client documentation to IT infrastructure, is provided.

Action points on each topic signpost the main tasks firms need to consider to ensure MiFID2 compliance.
